Dave, I have reviewed the report and it looks good. The one comment I have is that the facility (although maybe not the office) is in Adams County, not York. Maybe your GIS people can give you a map with the exact county borders and you can describe the site location from that. I sent the draft report to Brian Moore at PADEP and asked him if we wanted to review the report. Please don't finalize it till you hear from me about whether or not he has any comments.

Also, can you provide me with well test result tables for each of the individual locations. I need to send the results to the homeowners.

If you have any questions give me a call.

Thanks,

Greg,

Attached for your review is the draft trip report for the Miller Chemical Homewell Site. This trip report summarizes the activities and results of the residential well and spring samples collected from residences located near the Site in June 2015. A pdf version of the report which include all figures and tables is provided. Also provided is a MS Word version of the report in case you'd prefer to comment directly in the document in track changes. The Validated

Analytical results package will be included in the final submission of the report.

Please let me know you have any questions or comments regarding this report. Your comments and edits will be addressed for final submission.

Thanks,
